

TEN OF THEM HURT

A West Michigan Train Goes Through a Culvert.

TEN PASSENGERS ARE INJURED

But None of Them Killed—The Accident Caused by Weakening the Culvert to Make Repairs.

NILES, Mich., June 22.—Train No. 23, going south on the C. & W. M. railroad, went through a culvert this morning near Berrien Centre. All on board except one lady were more or less injured. The names of those in the most serious condition are:

Dr. Bell of Benton Harbor, wound in back.
C. B. Herbert of Detroit, injured about head and shoulders.
Mrs. Thompson of Graham, Ind., arm broken and internal injuries.

Seven others, two of whom are residents of this place, received slight wounds about the head and hands. The cause of the accident was the fact that the culvert had been weakened in making repairs. The low rate of speed was all that saved the passengers from going over an embankment.

All are now quarantined here temporarily, and a man representing the railroad is on hand looking after the financial needs of the unfortunate.

BIG CHURCH SUIT

Being Tried Before an Ecclesiastical Tribunal.

DETROIT, June 22.—The ecclesiastical title to $200,000 worth of Catholic church property in the eastern part of this city is under dispute in a suit which has been pending before the ecclesiastical courts for several months.

Eighty-four years ago Francis Paul Melcher deeded his farm, which consisted of private claim 10, in Hamtramck township, to the St. Philip Neri parish. The St. Philip Neri parish underwent several changes in the succeeding years, and the greater part of the property passed into the hands of the diocese of Detroit, which sold it to real estate dealers for something like $25,000.

The present St. Charles parish claims to be the ecclesiastical successor of the St. Philip Neri parish, and has brought suit in the metropolitan court of the archbishop of Cincinnati for the possession of the remainder of the property and an accounting for the balance.

Bishop Foley and the diocese of Detroit are the defendants to the suit. Fr. Christian Demian is pastor of the St. Charles parish and his attorney is Fr. F. A. Baart of Marshall. When the suit was commenced the demurrer was interposed by Fr. Robert F. M. Doman of Owasco, ecclesiastical attorney for Bishop Foley, who claimed that the suit should have been brought before the bishop's court in Detroit. The demurrer was overruled May 8 by Archbishop Elder of the metropolitan court of Cincinnati, and Bishop Foley and the Detroit diocese were enjoined from selling any more of the property or disposing of the funds on hand from previous sales.

Bishop Foley appealed to the pope at Rome, and a decision is being awaited from the Vatican. No matter which way the suit is decided the legal title of property formerly belonging to the church farm will not be clouded.

The suit is purely an ecclesiastical one, and will not be followed by a civil action. But if the diocese should be defeated, the building of the new cathedral will be endangered, as the diocese is relying on the funds received from the sale of the property to complete the project. All that St. Charles parish is after, however, is enough of the funds to build it a church and school, so that a compromise can probably be effected which will insure the success of the cathedral in case the diocese is beaten. Bishop Foley and Father Dempsey were both out of the city yesterday, so they could not be interviewed upon the subject.

Olivet Oration.

OLIVET, Mich., June 22.—The most exciting and closely contested oratorical contest took place yesterday afternoon. It was the annual contest of the A. rhetorical class and two prizes were given for the best original oration, one prize for thought and style, the other for delivery. The former was taken by Hiram E. Archer of Constantine, who delivered in the most eloquent of language "The Use and Abuse of the Ballot." Aris E. Binkhorst of Kalamazoo secured the award on delivery. He took as his oration "The Incomprehensible Revealed," discussing the mystery of God and their effect upon humanity in general.

Alpena Suffers.

ALPENA, Mich., June 22.—A terrible wind storm, mixed with rain and hail, struck here at 12 o'clock yesterday. It lasted seven minutes and in that time did many thousands of dollars worth of damage. Half of the side of Phelps & Co.'s brick block was blown out, also the windows in the 90-cent store in the Main block. Chas. H. Co.'s lumber was blown into the street, causing great damage. Reports are coming in showing that many shade trees were destroyed, small buildings were blown down and much other damage done. When the wind storm abated hail was piled upon streets and sidewalks six inches high in many places.

Joe Hanaw in Trouble.

JACKSON, Mich., June 22.—Recently Mary A. Lee of Parma secured a pension through the agency of Joseph Hanaw of this city, and today Hanaw was arrested by United States Marshal Able on a charge of fraud, the complaint being made by Special Pension Examiner George M. Smith. Mr. Hanaw asserted his innocence, but made no objection to accompanying the officer to Lansing.

Held to United States Court.

LANSING, June 22.—W. W. Osborn, who was arrested some time since for receiving an illegal pension fee of $100 was at an examination before Commissioner Dodge here today held for trial in the United States court at Detroit.

Shot a Constable.

HARTSDEN, Mich., June 22.—F. E. Faulk, a constable of Delton, was shot twice in the neck last night while attempting to arrest George Kern for keeping his saloon open on Sunday. The sheriff is after the shooter.

War Widow of 1874.

FLAT ROCK, Mich., June 22.—Mrs. Sarah Reeves, the oldest resident of this vicinity and a pension widow of the war of 1812, died at her home in Ash, three miles west of this place, at the age of 94 years. This is the last one of seven widow pensioners of that war in this neighborhood, who received their papers several years ago. Her June allowance was drawn just in time to pay her funeral expenses.

Supreme Court.

LANSING, June 22.—Cases heard: John Schroeder vs. Daniel W. Morehouse et al., Charles W. Boston vs. Michael Henderson, Charles Oates vs. Edwin Jerome, George W. Morley vs. London, Liverpool & Globe Insurance company, William M. Mitchell et al. vs. St. Paul German Insurance company.

Drowned While Bathing.

FLINT, Mich., June 22.—Jesse Jones, 20 years old, while bathing with a companion in the Flint river near the Lewis paper mill last night, was strangled by the water which entered his mouth and drowned in sight of his companion, who made several ineffectual attempts to rescue him. The boy's parents live at Otisville, and he has been attending the normal school in this city.

Wants Heavy Damages.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 22.—Lucius C. West, through his attorney, N. A. Vyne, began suit by summons this morning against the Kalamazoo Telegraph company for $20,000 damages for trespass on the case. No declaration has yet been made of Mr. West's grievances, but the suit is presumably the result of the article which appeared in last night's paper.

Both His Legs Cut Off.

ESCANABA, Mich., June 22.—John Winsor, a Northwestern freeman, fell into a moving train in the yards this morning and both his legs were cut off at his hips. He died at noon.

Around the State.

A Cheboygan county girl of 13 saw a boot beneath her bed as she was about to retire, and she knew just what to do about it. She opened a drawer, took out a revolver, cocked it, opened the door, and then remarked, "Now, then you get it, and get it in a hurry or I'll work your jacket all full of button holes." He went out so lively that he left his hat under the bed.

During a row over a cow at Port Huron, Sunday, Samuel McIlvane of Kimball shot at Alfred Baldock, a neighbor, but fortunately missed him. The latter never stopped running until he reached the prosecuting attorney's office, where he procured a warrant for the other's arrest.

James Crowe, marshal of Sagola, got full of tangletoot the other day and ruled the town with a high hand. A brace of pistols caused the population to hide their heads in order to keep Crowe from using them as targets. His address was the Iron Mountain jail the next morning.

Deputy Sheriff Clark, from Jackson county, arrested in Sault Tuesday noon Ebert Boynter, charged with skipping out with his employer's money. He had been lending bar in Jackson for some time, and is accused of knocking down the receipts.

John McCauley, a well-known stone mason and an old resident of Ypsilanti, died there Tuesday from blood poisoning. He was 62 years of age and was a member of the A. O. U. W.

Frank Durham and Patrick Kilty, aged 18 and 15 respectively, are in jail at Lansing, the confessed thieves of $118, belonging to an old lady, who gave them a meal of victuals.

Mrs. A. M. Hood of Big Rapids is to compile information from Michigan for a world's fair catalogue showing women's work in benevolent societies in the United States.

R. M. Sprague of Wayland has received a copyright on an outline called "History by Centuries," the same being the second secured by him during the past year.

Bay City wife tried to keep her husband home nights by pretending to take poison. He got onto the racket, however, and the scheme was not fruitful in results.

Cedar Springs will celebrate the Fourth in grand style. In addition to numerous fire crackers and torpedoes an old fashioned fox hunt will be indulged in.

A representative fruit grower of Ludington will ship over 1,000 bushels of strawberries this season. He shipped last year over 100,000 crates of fruit.

Deacon Rockwell of Kalamazoo, who was present at the birth of the republic on party under the oaks at Jackson, has just celebrated his 93d birthday.

Wixom now has a hive of lady Macabees. It was instituted on Monday with twenty charter members by Bina M. West, state organizer.

An interesting suit is in progress at Big Rapids. A young man sues his mother-in-law for damages for assaulting him.

Jailson Woman's Crime.

BRAZIL, Ind., June 22.—Carolina, a little town two miles north of here, was shaken from center to circumference last night by the explosion of a large dynamite cartridge and three persons nearly lost their lives. Mrs. Jane Burch of this place did the work through jealousy. She claimed her husband, William, had been visiting the house of the Michoud family too frequently, and last night she took a large dynamite cartridge and placed it under the house she supposed her husband to be in. By mistake she put the cartridge under A. Handcock's residence and fired the fuse. It was not long till a tremendous explosion was heard. The three occupants of the house, Mr. Handcock's wife and two children, were badly shaken up, but were not seriously injured. The building is a total wreck. The woman will be made to suffer for the crime.

FLOODS IN VERMONT.

A Number of Booms Give Way, Releasing Miles of Logs.

ROCKFORD, Vt., June 22.—A great flood is now sweeping over this vicinity. It is the worst since 1869. The booms in the Missiqui river broke early this morning and thousands of logs belonging to the Rockford Lumber company, Baker, Brainerd & Co. and C. P. Stevens & Co. went down the stream, making a loss which can hardly be estimated. Aside from the loss to the Mill company, a large number of men are being thrown out of work. The loss to the sawmills is serious to the town. Another boom has broken further up the river and two miles of logs are coming down. It is feared the iron bridge and several buildings will be carried away.

Agreed to Die.

ASHLAND, Wis., June 22.—The preliminary hearing of the case against Julius Lipke and wife was concluded in the circuit court this morning. Evidence went to prove that Mrs. Lipke, formerly Mrs. Kraus, was a party to her husband's death. The day of the poisoning she went to Butternut and while there informed several persons that when she arrived home she expected to find her husband dead. Letters were exhibited which were to the effect that an agreement had been entered into between Kraus and wife to poison themselves. After hearing the evidence Judge Parish said there had been enough evidence introduced to warrant him in holding the defendants for trial. He ordered the prisoners arraigned and both pleaded "not guilty." The charge preferred being willful murder. Bail was fixed at $5,000 for Lipke and $3,000 for his wife, in default of which the prisoners will be in jail until September.

Man and Girl Dead.

PITTSBURGH, June 22.—At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon a man known as Prof. Emil Weist, alias Weist, entered the hairdressing establishment of Miss Maggie Buttress on Butterworth street, Allegheny, and without warning drew a revolver and shot the young woman through the heart. He then placed the revolver to his own breast and fired. Both died instantly. It is said that Weist was married and had a wife and family living in Baltimore. Miss Buttress was 20 years of age, and it is said that Weist became enamored of her and killed her because she refused to listen to his advances.

Weist was employed at the office of Dr. Thorburn, a chronicist on Sixth street, this city, where his victim had also been employed.

Foul Play Is Suspected.

VANDALIA, Ill., June 22.—Doubt exists as to whether Charles Henderson, the boy whose body was found in Bear creek yesterday, was drowned or was foully dealt with and his body thrown in the water to cover up the crime. He was an orphan living with J. J. Owens, near this city. He was sent to look after some stock and never returned. His clothes were found lying on the bank of the creek and beside them lay an old umbrella that could not be identified. The boy's face was badly bruised and on the side of his head was a rash two inches long. His lips were badly swollen and cut, indicating that he had been struck a heavy blow. He left the house alone. Other tracks than those of the boy's were plainly seen in the mud near the creek. The case is being investigated.

Cowardly Murder.

ROME CITY, Ind., June 22.—A most cowardly murder was committed at a farm near this city last night, between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock. Hugh Platt, a farm laborer, while in a quarrel with several toughs, endeavored to get away, getting in his buggy to drive home. He had barely got started when a beer bottle was hurled at him, which must have struck him with terrible force, as he fell on the dashboard from the effects of the blow and to add to the scene, the horse took fright and ran away. After proceeding for a couple of squares he came to a stand still in front of Smith's blacksmith shop, where Platt was found at 3:30 this morning. The corner is holding an inquest and no doubt the murderer will be hunted down and punished accordingly.

Thompson's Voyage Delayed.

OTTAWA, June 22.—It is now thought that Sir John Thompson, one of the Canadian fishing sea commissioners, will not go to Paris on the Behring sea arbitration before next year. The delay in making up the cases for the respective parties will extend until September, and a further delay of three months will be given for answers, and some date not until next spring will probably be fixed for the arbitrators to sit in judgment.

Russia Visited by Blight. St. PETERSBURG, June 22.—A drought is prevailing in Potavria, in southern Russia, and the crops are being blighted. A daily spectacle is that of priests carrying sacred icons, and followed by throngs of peasants to the fields. Here the icons are erected and surrounded by kneeling groups of peasants. Prayers are then offered for rain. The sheep and cattle are perishing for want of food.

Bismarck Will Take Water.

VIENNA, June 22.—Prince Bismarck has been so pleased with his reception here that he has decided to remain in the city until Friday, when he will start for Kensington, to take the waters.

OLD MAID'S MONOLOGUE.

I'm sorry I ever learned to say no. The first at 20 is the old maid at 30. The girl who cut me out died of a broken heart.

Marriage isn't so much of a failure as marrying.

There is a good time coming. Marriages are made in heaven. Everything comes to the man who waits; it is a different story with the woman.

In regard to my first lover, I refused him in haste and repented at leisure. I might have been happily married if it hadn't been for my little brother.

If woman could be always young and beautiful very few of them would marry.

Every time I hear that a married men live longer than single ones it makes me think how I might have prolonged some good man's life.

Although a parrot may be able to swear at you, yet it isn't a husband after all.

A woman grows afraid of men as soon as they don't wish anything to do with her.

If the man I refused years ago had only come back he would never have died a bachelor.

When a man is alive his wife is his better half; when he is dead she is worth only a third.

Although both my former lovers made their wives wretched I am sure I could have been happy with either.

Love is as good a mirror as a looking-glass. Men stop looking at a woman when she stops looking at herself.

Philosophers say that woman is at her best at 35, but they don't seem to think so when they pick one out for a wife.

In the Detroit Free Press June 7, sixth page, under the head of "Distinguished Doctors," we see the names of the members of The American (Alopathic) Medical Association, who are meeting in that city, and the specialties in which they are engaged, and also the pictures of 28 of those who can afford it.

If this is their advertisement, and we think it is, we wish to congratulate the principal physicians among the Alopahs for their success as advertising physicians, and we feel sorrow for the common herd of Alopahic physicians who do not DARE to advertise. What does this meeting amount to, anyway? Is it anything more than a mutual admiration society and a free advertising scheme for its members? Will the rest of the Alopahic physicians call them "quacks" after this? We hope not, as the members of the American Medical Association have as much right to advertise as Dr. S. CLAY TODD, and we wish to congratulate them on their success as Advertising Physicians.
